

★
★
Contents
★
★ ★

1

Jews, Theatricality, and Modernity 12

Cantors' Songs, Jazz Singers, and Indian Chiefs

3

The Politics of Theatricality during the Great Depression 66

"We Know We Belong to the Land"

5

Or, "Doin' What Comes Natur'llly" 119

"You've Got to Be Carefully Taught"

"I Whistle a Happy Tune" 183

Index 247

[illegible]

1. Gieber Goldfarb (Willie Howard) as the taxi driver in Girl Crazy (1930). 4
2. Gieber Goldfarb (Willie Howard) as the sheriff in Girl Crazy. 5
3. George Jessel, Dorothy Raymond, and Sam Jaffe in Samson Raphaelson's play The Jazz Singer (1925). 37
4. George Jessel as Jackie Rabinowitz in The Jazz Singer. 38
5. Eddie Cantor's multiple identities in Whoopie, as imagined by Alfred Frueh in The New Yorker (1929). 40
6. Cartoon by Al Hirschfeld caricaturing performers in Girl Crazy. 41
7. Eddie Cantor and his shadow in Whoopie, ca. 1929. 55
8. Eddie Cantor as Henry Williams in Indian disguise, with Jeanette Reade as Nurse Custer, in Whoopie. 56
9. Gieber Goldfarb (Willie Howard) with Chief Eagle Rock (played by Chief Rivers) in Girl Crazy. 57
10. Willie Howard, John McGowan, and Ginger Rogers in Girl Crazy. 61
11. Performing "Youth Will Arrive" from Babes in Arms (1937). 68
12. The Nicholas Brothers dancing in the finale of Babes in Arms. 89
13. The Nicholas Brothers and others in a typical minstrel routine from Babes in Arms. 91
14. Joseph Buloff and Celeste Holm as Ali Hakin and Ado Annie in Oklahoma! (1943). 109
15. Jud Fry (Richard Gordon) and Curly (James Alexander) almost come to blows in Oklahoma! 112

16. Invitation to first-anniversary party for Oklahoma! 115
17. Finale of Oklahoma! in the 1943 production. 117
18. Annie (Ethel Merman) stands beside her image in Annie Get Your Gun (1943). 120
19. Annie's chest full of jewels. 133
20. "Living curtain" at the end of Annie Get Your Gun. 135
21. Annie (Ethel Merman) after being adopted into Sitting Bull's tribe. 137
22. Bloody Mary (Juanita Hall), Liat (Betta St. John), and Joe (William Tabbert) in the 1949 production of South Pacific. 161
23. Nellie Forbush (Mary Martin) "washing that man right out of her hair." 163
24. Nellie Forbush (Mary Martin) and Luther Billis (Myron McCormick) in "Honey Bun." 167
25. Nellie (Mary Martin) gazes admiringly at Emile (Ezio Pinza). 171
26. The nuclear family in the finale of South Pacific. 182
27. The King (Yul Brynner) and Anna (Celeste Holm) perform "Shall We Dance" in the 1952 production of The King and I. 195
28. The multi-ethnic cast of A Chorus Line (1975). 198
29. Press release for the four-thousandth performance of A Chorus Line (1985). 198
30. Poster for A Chorus Line. 199