

Contents

Preface IX

Note about This Volume X

List of Figures XII

- 1 Jews in Literature and Art of the Church: The Catholic Middle Ages 1
 - Writings on the Life of Personal Piety 1
 - The Crusades 8
 - Jews in the Hexameron (ca. 1220) 9
 - The First Danish Anti-Jewish Publication (1516) 11
 - Judaism and Jews in the Art of the Church 13
- 2 Martin Luther's Antipathy toward Jews and the Attitudes of Danish Reformers: The Reformation of the Sixteenth Century 19
 - Martin Luther and the Jews 19
 - This Evil People*—Hans Tausen and Peder Palladius 25
 - Jews in Church Prayers and Edifying Writings 30
 - God's Own Language*—The Study of Hebrew 31
- 3 Jewish Immigrants, Freedom of Religion, and the Anger of the Bishops: The Orthodoxy of the Seventeenth Century 33
 - Orthodoxy and Absolute Monarchy 33
 - Judaism and Jews in Academic and Popular Literature 33
 - Government Policies on Jews and the Reaction of the Bishops 39
 - Baptism of Jews 43
 - The Chief of Police's Proposal for a Jewish Ghetto (1692) 45
- 4 Convert or be Lost!* Controversy and Mission in the Age of Pietism (1700–1760) 48
 - The Jewish Community 48
 - Views of Christian Theologians on Judaism and Jews 57
 - Problems of Integration 66
 - Mission to the Jews 75
 - Conversion of Jews to Christianity 83

- 5 Ordinary Danish Citizens, but with Another Religion: The 'Christian' and Jewish Enlightenment (1760–1814) 89
 - The Jewish Community 89
 - Enlightenment Movements 96
 - Conflicts about Jewish Reforms 100
 - Judaism and Jews in the Writings of Christian Theologians 102
 - The Conversion of Jews to Christianity 113
 - The Views of Christian Theologians on the Anti-Jewish Literary Feud 119
 - 'The Letter of Freedom': The Royal Decree of March 29, 1814 122
- 6 Avowals of Converted Jews 125
- 7 Freedom for Jews? (1814–1849): The Integration of Jews into Society 127
 - A Letter of Freedom? 127
 - Literary Feuds and Street Fights 128
 - Jews in the Writings of Christian Theologians 131
 - Conditions within the Jewish Congregation 138
 - Debate on the Adaptation of Jews to Social and Political Conditions 147
 - Missionary Work and the Conversion of Jews to Christianity 157
- 8 The Danish People's Church and the Jews (1849–ca. 1900) 173
 - The Independent Jewish Community of Faith 173
 - Confrontation between Chief Rabbi Abraham Wolff and the 'Enemies of the Talmud' 178
 - Attitudes toward Jews of Different Movements within the Danish People's Church 183
 - Religious and Social Problems in the Jewish Community 190
 - The Danish Mission to the Jews 200
 - Admittance into the Danish Church and into the Jewish Congregation 214
- 9 Sympathy for Jews and Hatred of Jews in the Danish People's Church (ca. 1900–1948) 221
 - The State of Affairs within the Jewish Community 221
 - Christian Theologians and Zionism 226
 - Groupings within the Danish People's Church and Anti-Semitism (before 1940) 229
 - Jews and Christians during and after the German Occupation 242

	Renewed Missionary Efforts among the Jews	260
	Reaction in the People's Church on Zionism and the Creation of the State of Israel	262
10	Epilogue	268
	Literature and Sources	273
	Index of Persons and Places	287