

Contents

Preface	ix
Abbreviations	xi
Introduction: The Jewish Reformation	1
I. HASKALAH: MOSES MENDELSSOHN'S MODERATE REFORMATION
1. The Bible as Cultural Translation	17
2. Biblical Education and the Power of Conversation	76
II. WISSENSCHAFT AND REFORM: LEOPOLD ZUNZ BETWEEN SCHOLARSHIP AND SYNAGOGUE
3. Translation versus Midrash	127
4. Bible Translation and the Centrality of the Synagogue	161
III. NEO-ORTHODOXY: THE SAMSON RAPHAEL HIRSCH ENIGMA
5. A Man of No Party: Hirsch's Nineteen Letters on Judaism as Bible Translation	229
6. The Road to Orthodoxy: Hirsch in Battle	289
7. The Innovative Orthodoxy of Hirsch's Pentateuch	338
8. The Fracturing of German Judaism: Ludwig Philippson's Inclusive Israelite Bible and Hirsch's Sectarian Neo-Orthodox Pentateuch	384
Conclusion: The Jewish Counter-Reformation	411
Appendix: Mendelssohn on the Decalogue	419
Bibliography	425
Index	449
Biblical and Rabbinic Sources	459