

CONTENTS

- Introduction 1
Jay Howard Geller and Michael Meng
- 1 The Politics of Jewish Representation in Early West Germany 14
Jay Howard Geller
- 2 We Have the Right to Exist Here: Jewish Politics and the Challenges of Wiedergutmachung in Post-Holocaust Germany 30
Andrea A. Sinn
- 3 Bernhard Brilling and the Reconstruction of Jewish Archives in Postwar Germany 48
Jason Lustig
- 4 Whose Heritage? Early Postwar German-Jewish History as Remigrants' History—the Case of Hamburg 65
Miriam Rürup
- 5 Migration, Memory, and New Beginnings: The Postwar Jewish Community in Frankfurt am Main 84
Tobias Freimüller
- 6 Helmut Eschwege and Jewish Life in the German Democratic Republic 101
Alexander Walther
- 7 Learning Years on the Path to Dissidence: Stefan Heym's Friendship with Robert Havemann and Wolf Biermann 118
Cathy S. Gelbin

8	Ernst Bloch's Eschatological Marxism	150
	Michael Meng
9	Diasporic Place-Making in Barbara Honigmann	166
	Katja Garloff
10	Tur Tur's Lantern on a Tiny Island: New Historiographical Perspectives on East German Jewish History	181
	Constantin Goschler
11	Community Responses to the Immigration of Russian-Speaking Jews to Germany, 1990–2006	191
	Joseph Cronin
12	Policing the East: The New Jewish Hero in Dominik Graf's Crime Drama Im Angesicht des Verbrechens	206
	Jill Suzanne Smith
13	"You Are My Liberty": On the Negotiation of Holocaust and Other Memories for Israelis in Berlin	223
	Irit Dekel
	Epilogue	246
	Jay Howard Geller and Michael Meng
	Index	255