

Contents

Acknowledgments.....	vii
Introduction: George Mosse and Political Symbolism	1
Seymour Drescher, David Sabeau, and Allan Sharlin
Part I: The Language of Cultural Crisis
1. Degeneration and the Medical Model of Cultural Crisis in the French Belle Époque	19
Robert A. Nye
2. The Body without Fatigue: A Nineteenth-Century Utopia	42
Anson Rabinbach
3. Practical Reason in Wilhelmian Germany: Marburg Neo-Kantian Thought in Populär Culture	63
Tim Keck
4. Caftan and Cravat: The Ostjude as a Cultural Symbol in the Development of German Anti-Semitism	81
Steven E. Aschheim
5. Myth and Symbol in Georges Sorel	100
David Gross
Part II: Science, Myth, and Ideology
6. Feminism, Fertility, and Eugenics in Victorian and Edwardian England	121
Richard Allen Soloway
7. Darwinism and the Working Class in Wilhelmian Germany	146
Alfred H. Kelly
8. Science and Religion in Early Modern Europe	168
H. G. Koenigsberger
Part III: Political Discourse and Cultural Symbols
9. Populär Theater and Socialism in Late-Nineteenth-Century France	197
Joan Wallach Scott
10. Dashed Hopes: On the Painting of the Wars of Liberation	216
Jost Hermand
Photo essay.....	231

11. The Nature and Function of Generational Discourse in France on the Eve of World War I	239
Paul F. Lachance
12. Man in the Natural World: Some Implications of the National-Socialist Religion	256
Robert A. Pois
Part IV: Teaching and Politics: George Mosse in the Pulpit
13. GLM: An Appreciation	275
Sterling Fishman
14. With George Mosse in the 1960s	285
Paul Breines
About the Contributors.....	301
Index.....	305