

Contents

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Acknowledgments  | ix  |
| Introduction: Experiencing Sara Levy's WorldNancy Sinkoff   | 1   |
| Part One: Portrait of a Jewish Female Artist: Music, Identity, Image   |     |
| 1 What Was the Berlin Jewish Salon around 1800?Marianne E. Goozé  | 21  |
| 2 Sara Levy's Musical Salon and Her Bach CollectionChristoph Wolff  | 39  |
| 3 Remaining within the Fold: The Cultural and Social Worldof Sara LevyNatalie Naimark-Goldberg                        | 52  |
| 4 Women's Voices in Bach's Musical World: Christiane Marianevon Ziegler and Faustina BordoniGeorge B. Stauffer        | 75  |
| Part Two: Music, Aesthetics, and Philosophy:Jews and Christians in Sara Levy's World   |     |
| 5 Lessing and the Limits of EnlightenmentMartha B. Helfer   | 99  |
| 6 Poetry, Music, and the Limits of Harmony: Mendelssohn'sAesthetic Critique of ChristianityElias Sacks                | 122 |
| 7 Longing for the Sublime: Jewish Self-Consciousness and theSt. Matthew Passion in Biedermeier BerlinYael Sela | 147 |

Part Three: Studies in Sara Levy's Collection

|   |  |     |
|---|--|-----|
| 8 | Duets in the Collection of Sara Levy and the Ideal of"Unity in Multiplicity"Rebecca Cypess                        | 181 |
| 9 | The Sociability of Salon Culture and Carl Philipp EmanuelBach's QuartetsSteven Zohn                               | 205 |
|   | Appendix: The Salonnière and the Diplomat: Letters from Sara Levyto Karl Gustav von BrinckmannBarbara Hahn | 243 |
|   | Bibliography   | 255 |
|   | List of Contributors   | 279 |
|   | Index  | 283 |