

Contents

Preface — XIII

Documentation Style — XVII

Introduction — XIX

PART ONE ALIENATED WISDOM

Synopsis: How the Written and Oral Torah Became Alienated Wisdom — 3

1 Between Myth and History of Knowledge — 5

1.1 The Christian Use of an Alexandrine Myth — 6

1.2 Antiquity as the Premise for Authority — 9

2 The “Theft” of Written and Oral Wisdom — 21

2.1 Strengths and Weaknesses of “Writing” vs. “Orality” — 22

2.2 He Who Did Not Write but Published: Ezra the Scribe — 25

2.3 The Publication of the Greek Torah — 26

2.4 The Record of Oral Wisdom — 28

2.5 The Transmission of Wisdom — 33

3 Between “Theft” and Genealogy of Knowledge: The Middle Ages — 35

4 Primordial Wisdom and Historical Consciousness — 43

4.1 Arcane Wisdom in a Bookshop — 43

4.2 Galatino, Lusitanus, and Azariah de’ Rossi — 44

4.3 Method and Reader — 49

4.4 The Sources of Wisdom — 56

4.5 Polemic Anthropology and Religious Ontology — 58

PART TWO JEWISH PHILOSOPHY: HISTORY OF DEFINITIONS

Synopsis: How Jewish Tradition Became (Philosophy of) Religion — 67

1 From Philosophia Hebraeorum to Jewish Religion — 69

1.1 Reducing Jewish Tradition to “Ceremonial Laws” — 69

- 1.2 Jewish Tradition as Religion — 89
- 1.3 A Turning Point? Moses Mendelssohn: Between Caerimonialia and Religion — 101

- 2 Philosophy between Jewish Studies and Theology — 105
  - 2.1 Jewish Philosophy: History of Wisdom — 106

- 3 Leopold Zunz: The “Scientific” Creation of Jewish Studies — 121

- 4 Abraham Geiger: Jewish Theology as Institution — 127

- 5 Philological Demythologisation as a Premise of New Dogmatisms and Ethics — 133

PART THREE (JEWISH) SCEPTICISM

Synopsis: On Jewish Philosophy and Scepticism in the Early Modern Period — 143

- 1 Research on (Jewish) Scepticism — 146
  - 1.1 Research on Scepticism(s) — 146
  - 1.2 Research on Jewish Scepticism — 151

- 2 At The Eve of Modernity: Scepticism in-between — 157
  - 2.1 From Scholasticism to Sceptical Attitudes — 158
  - 2.2 Three Sceptical Strategies: De’ Rossi, the Maharal, and Sferno — 167

- 3 Spaces of Dialectic Exchange: The Academies and the Venetian Ghetto — 185
  - 3.1 Italian Academies and Scepticism — 186
  - 3.2 Jewish Academies — 188
  - 3.3 The Ghetto and Dialectic Strategies: The Philosopher Sara Copio Sullam — 194

- 4 Socrates, the Jew: The Scepticism of Simone Luzzatto — 213
  - 4.1 Apologetic Strategies, Scepticism, and Empiricism — 214
  - 4.2 The Politics of Scepticism: Luzzatto’s Socrate — 233

- 5 Sceptical Judaism: A Protestant Strategy — 265
  - 5.1 Negotiating the Principle of Contradiction: Johann Frischmuth on Rabbinic Dialectical Discussion — 265
  - 5.2 The “Sceptic” Solomon: Halle’s Protestant Vision — 276

Conclusion — 281

Alienation and Philosophies — 281

Appendix I — 297

Johannes Frischmuth (1619–1687) Guido Bartolucci — 297

Appendix II — 303

Johann Frischmuth & Johann Leonhard Will — 303

Bibliography — 325

Index — 357