

Contents

Preface

vii

PART 1. REFLECTIONS

1. In Memory of Leo Baeck and Other Jewish Thinkers
in "Dark Times": Once More, "After Auschwitz, Jerusalem" 3
Emil L. Fackenheim
2. Hegel and "The Jewish Problem" 15
Emil L. Fackenheim

PART 2. CRITIQUE

3. Hegel's Ghost: "Witness" and "Testimony" in the Post-Holocaust Philosophy of Emil Fackenheim 29
Susan E. Shapiro
4. Fackenheim on Passover after the Holocaust 39
Warren Zev Harvey
5. Of Systems and the Systematic Labor of Thought:
Fackenheim as Philosopher of His Time 49
Benjamin Pollock
6. Fackenheim and Levinas: Living and Thinking
after Auschwitz 61
Michael L. Morgan
7. The Holocaust and the Foundations of Future Philosophy:
Fackenheim and Strauss 75
Solomon Goldberg

8. Fackenheim and Strauss Catherine H. Zuckert	87
PART 3. RESPONSE
9. Emil Fackenheim: Theodicy, and the Tikkun of Protest David R. Blumenthal	105
10. The Holocaust Is a Christian Issue: Christology Revisited Richard A. Cohen	117
11. The Holocaust—Tragedy for the Jewish People, Credibility Crisis for Christendom Franklin H. Littell	133
12. Man or Muselman ?: Fackenheim's Elaboration on Levi's Question David Patterson	147
13. Emil Fackenheim, Irving Howe, and the Fate of Secular Jewishness Edward Alexander	163
14. She'erith Hapleilah : Reflections of a Historian Zeev Mankowitz	173
15. Willful Murder in the Lublin District of Poland David Silberklang	185
16. Metahistory, Redemption, and the Shofar of Emil Fackenheim Gershon Greenberg	207
list of Contributors	225
Index	227