

Judaism, State, and Education in Nineteenth-Century France

CHALLENGES of EQUALITY

JEFFREY HAUS

WAYNE STATE UNIVERSITY PRESS DETROIT

CONTENTS

Preface and Acknowledgments vii

Introduction 1

PART I: JEWISH PRIMARY EDUCATION AND THE STATE, 1808–1870

1. Foundations 9
2. Roadblocks to Regeneration 28
3. Redefinition and Consolidation 43

PART II: RABBINICAL EDUCATION AND THE STATE, 1808–1906

4. How Much Latin Should a Rabbi Know? 65
5. A Tale of Two Cities: From Metz to Paris 91

PART III: TOWARD SEPARATION, 1875–1906

6. Challenges of Equality: Financial Anticlericalism 115
7. Jewish Education and Jewish Space 134
8. “Just Proportions”: Financial Anticlericalism and Rabbinical Space 151

Conclusion 160

Notes 167

Bibliography 205

Index 221