

Contents

1	Self-Sceptical Ethics and Selfless Morality: A Historical and Cross-Cultural Overview	1
	Gordon F. Davis
2	The Ethics of Self-Knowledge in Platonic and Buddhist Philosophy	21
	Michael Griffin
3	Detachment in Buddhist and Stoic Ethics: Ataraxia and Apatheia and Equanimity	73
	Emily McRae
4	Skepticism and Religious Practice in Sextus and Nāgārjuna	91
	Ethan Mills
5	Spinoza Through the Prism of Later ‘East-West’ Exchanges: Analogues of Buddhist Themes in the Ethics and the Works of Early Spinozists.	107
	Gordon F. Davis and Mary D. Renaud
6	Hume as a Western Mādhyamika: The Case from Ethics	131
	Jay L. Garfield
7	Anattā and Ethics: Kantian and Buddhist Themes	145
	Emer O’Hagan
8	The Contingency of Willing: A Vijñānavāda Critique of Schopenhauer and Nietzsche	161
	Douglas L. Berger
9	Selfless Care? Heidegger and anattā	179
	Sonia Sikka

10	Echoes of Anattā and Buddhist Ethics in William James and Bertrand Russell	197
	Nalini Ramlakhan
11	Altruism in the Charnel Ground: Śāntideva and Parfit on Anātman, Reductionism and Benevolence	219
	Stephen Harris
12	The Ethics of Interconnectedness: Charles Taylor, No-Self, and Buddhism	235
	Ashwani Peetush
13	Variations on Anātman: Buddhist Themes in Deep Ecology and in Future-Directed Environmental Ethics	253
	Gordon F. Davis and Pragati Sahnī
	Index	275