

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction	xiii
1 On the Holocaust and comparative history	1
2 Mass death under Communist rule and the limits of "otherness"	27
3 Auschwitz and the Gulag : A study in dissimilarity	57
4 Children in Auschwitz and the Gulag : Alternative realities	73
5 On the definition of genocide and the issue of uniqueness	90
6 Exploring the Holocaust and comparative history	110
7 Extermination trumps production: On the issue of Jews as slave laborers	121
8 The murder of Jewish children during the Holocaust	150
9 Thoughts on the intersection of rape and Rassenschande during the Holocaust	171
10 Irving Greenberg on history and Halakha : The implications of the Holocaust	201
11 Exploring the concept of Kol Yisrael Arevim Zeh L'Zeh	215

CONTENTS

12	Thinking about Jewish resistance during the Holocaust	233
13	Elie Wiesel: The man and his legacy	267
14	The issue of confirmation and disconfirmation in Jewish thought after the Shoah	291
15	Jewish theologians respond to the Holocaust	335
	Index	349