

Contents

List of Figures	viii
Personal Preface	ix
Acknowledgments	xxvii
Introduction: Philosophy as a Subject for Visual Art	1
1 Identity/Metamorphosis/Translation	13
2 An Introduction to Maria Bussmann's Translations	29
3 Are Translations of Philosophy into Visual Art Possible?	43
4 Ludwig Wittgenstein, Tractatus Logico-Philosophicus	61
5 Maurice Merleau-Ponty, The Visible and the Invisible	73
6 Hannah Arendt	91
7 Lawrence Carroll and Maria Bussmann	105
8 Illustrations, Graphic Novels, Diagrams	119
9 An Art History Made by Bussmann	135
10 The Composition and Interpretation of Bussmann's Art	147
Conclusion: The Contribution of Bussmann's Art to Philosophical Aesthetics	157
References	167
Index	177