

CONTENTS

PREFACE . . . . .	XIII
-------------------	------

INTRODUCTORY

§ 1 Syriac as a Semitic language . . . . .	1
--	---

Part I: ORTHOGRAPHY AND PHONOLOGY

§ 2 The Alphabet . . . . .	3
§ 3 Pronunciation . . . . .	3
Table of the Alphabet . . . . .	4
§ 3a Comparison of Semitic consonants . . . . .	5
§ 4 Vowel notation; vowel signs; dialectal variations . . . . .	7
[Other noteworthy graphic symbols]
§ 5 Quššaya/Rukkaka ; linea occultans . . . . .	8
§ 6 marḥetana ; mehaggeyana ; seyame ; diacritical dot punctuation. . . . .	9
[Some remarks on phonology]
§ 7 Vowel deletion rule; /e/ → /a/; diphthongs; BGDKPT after long vowels: ḥatef vowels; proclitics; enclitics; elision of Alaf . . . . .	10
§ 8 Tone or stress . . . . .	12
Spirantisation of BGDKPT: Syriac vs. Tiberian Hebrew . . . . .	13

Part II: MORPHOLOGY

§ 9 Independent personal pronouns . . . . .	14
§ 10 Enclitic forms . . . . .	14
§ 11 Suffixed personal pronouns . . . . .	14
§ 12 Object suffix pronouns . . . . .	15
§ 13 Demonstrative pronouns . . . . .	15
§ 14 Interrogatives . . . . .	16
§ 15 Relative pronoun. . . . .	16
§ 16 Independent possessive pronouns . . . . .	16
§ 17 Declension of nouns and adjectives. . . . .	16
§ 18 Infrequency of status absolutus and constructus . . . . .	17
§ 19 Status emphaticus morpheme: /ā/ . . . . .	17

§ 20	Status emphaticus f. sg.: / tā / or / tā / . . . . .	17
§ 21	Archaic m. pl. st. emph. ending: / ayyā / . . . . .	17
§ 22	/y/ added to the feminine base . . . . .	18
§ 23	Nouns and adjectives with /y/ or /w/ as third radical. . . . .	18
§ 24	Addition of /w/ to the plural base . . . . .	18
§ 25	Patterns of Syriac nouns and adjectives . . . . .	18
§ 26	Attachment of possessive suffix pronouns . . . . .	18
§ 27	As attached to ܐܢܝܐ . . . . .	19
§ 28	Principles of pronoun attachment according to various noun types . . . . .	20
§ 29	Nouns and adjectives with deletable vowels . . . . .	21
§ 30	List of important irregular nouns . . . . .	23
§ 31	Numerals: Cardinals and ordinals . . . . .	24
§ 32	Prepositions taking the masculine plural set of suffix pronouns . . . . .	25

VERB

§ 33	Syriac verb system compared with the Hebrew; internal passive; quadriliteral verb roots. . . . .	26
§ 34	Ettafal and Šafel . . . . .	27
§ 35	Internal passive compared with Eth -passive . . . . .	27
§ 36	Inflectional affixes: summary . . . . .	27
§ 37	Infinitive . . . . .	28
§ 38	Nomen agentis . . . . .	29
§ 39	Comparative simplicity of the Syriac verb conjugation . . . . .	29
§ 40	Loss of the jussive and cohortative; their vestiges . . . . .	29
§ 41	Triliteral regular verb . . . . .	30
§ 42	Two sub-patterns in Peal . . . . .	31
§ 43	Beghadhkephath and verb conjugation . . . . .	31
§ 44	Verbs with gutturals. . . . .	32
§ 45	/e/ → /a/ in verbs with gutturals and /r/ . . . . .	32
§ 46	Second-Alaf verbs . . . . .	32
§ 47	Third-Alaf verbs . . . . .	32
§ 48	First-Nun verbs . . . . .	32
§ 49	First-Alaf verbs . . . . .	33
§ 50	First-Yodh verbs . . . . .	34
§ 51	Third-Yodh verbs . . . . .	35
§ 52	Some rare features of Third-Yodh verbs . . . . .	36
§ 53	Second-Waw or Yodh verbs . . . . .	36
§ 54	Geminate verbs . . . . .	37
§ 55	List of anomalous verbs . . . . .	37
§ 56	Verbs with suffixal object pronouns . . . . .	38

Part III: MORPHOSYNTAX AND SYNTAX

§ 57	Noun: its gender . . . . .	40
§ 58	Noun: its state, uses of status absolutus . . . . .	40
§ 59	Explicit indication of definiteness and indefiniteness . . . . .	41
§ 60	Archaic status absolutus used adverbially . . . . .	41
§ 61	Use of status constructus severely curtailed . . . . .	41
§ 62	Interrogatives + ا = Relative pronouns. . . . .	41
§ 63	Prepositions + ا = Conjunctions . . . . .	41
§ 64	Morphosyntactic distribution of some prepositions . . . . .	42
§ 65	Impersonal passive . . . . .	42
§ 66	Perfect: its uses . . . . .	42
§ 67	Imperfect: modal nuances. . . . .	43
§ 68	Participle: its uses . . . . .	43
§ 69	Passive participle: resultative use, esp. ا مَـ . . . . .	44
	[Compound tense forms]
§ 70	ا مَـ مَـ . . . . .	45
§ 71	ا مَـ مَـ . . . . .	46
§ 72	مَـ ا مَـ . . . . .	46
§ 73	ا مَـ ا مَـ . . . . .	46
§ 74	مَـ ا مَـ . . . . .	47
	[Noun expanded]. . . . .
§ 75	Modifiers usually preceding . . . . .	47
§ 76	Position of attributive adjectives. . . . .	47
§ 77	Position of demonstrative pronouns . . . . .	48
§ 78	Position of numerals . . . . .	48
§ 79	Noun qualified by both an adjective and numeral 'one' . . . . .	48
§ 80	Noun qualified by both a demonstrative pronoun and an adjective . . . . .	48
§ 81	Cohesion between other numerals and nucleus noun vis-à-vis adjective and demonstrative pronoun . . . . .	48
§ 82	Noun qualified by both a numeral and a demonstrative. . . . .	49
§ 83	Determined noun qualified by a numeral. . . . .	49
§ 84	Position of quantifiers هـ and مـ . . . . .	49
§ 85	Synthetic structure; status constructus. . . . .	49
§ 86	Analytical structure with ا . . . . .	50
§ 87	Analytical structure with ا . . . . .	50
§ 88	Proleptic possessive pronoun. . . . .	50

§ 89	Status constructus of adjectives . . . . .	50
§ 90	Position of adjective qualifying the nucleus noun in analytical union. . . . .	51
§ 91	Versatile syntax of مَحْدُودٌ . . . . .	51
§ 92	Syntax of حَدٌّ . . . . .	51
§ 93	Relative clause; absence of antecedent; demonstratives and interrogatives as antecedents . . . . .	52
§ 94	Pseudo-relative clause with a prepositional phrase. . . . .	53
	[Verb expanded]
§ 95	Essential and non-essential complementation; analytical expression of pronoun objects syntactically conditioned; proleptic use of object pronouns; pronoun objects with infinitives . . . . .	53
§ 96	Infinitive absolute . . . . .	55
§ 97	Variety of structures complementing verbs of wishing, beginning, being able and the like . . . . .	56
§ 98	Asyndetic union of two verbs . . . . .	57
§ 99	Verbs of perception and their complementation . . . . .	58
§ 100	Direct speech introduced by أَنَّ . . . . .	59
	[Clause structure]
§ 101	Two kinds of clause: verbal and nominal . . . . .	59
	[Nominal clause]
§ 102	Formal classification and semantic classification . . . . .	59
§ 103	Bipartite clause with a personal pronoun; tripartite clause with ambiguous double-faced personal pronoun; its essentially extraposing character; four types of tripartite clause . . . . .	60
§ 104	Ellipsis . . . . .	62
§ 105	Structural meaning of nominal clause . . . . .	63
§ 106	Four-part nominal clause . . . . .	65
§ 107	Existential and locative sentences; functions of هَـ فَـ . . . . .	65
§ 108	Circumstantial clause and its transformation . . . . .	67
§ 109	Types of prolepsis . . . . .	67
§ 110	Negation . . . . .	68
§ 111	Compound sentence . . . . .	69

CHRESTOMATHY

1.	Genesis 39. 7-23 (Peshitta) . . . . .	71
2.	Deuteronomy 4. 1-14 (Peshitta) . . . . .	76

3. Matthew 6. 5-15 (the Lord's Prayer with its introduction) (Peshitta)	80
4. Aphrahat, "On Love," from his Demonstrationes . . . . .	83
5. Aphrahat, "On Fasting," ib. . . . .	86
6. St Ephrem's commentary on Genesis 39. 7-23 . . . . .	88
7. Ishodad of Merv: his commentary on Genesis 39 . . . . .	90
8. Genesis 39. 7-12 (Syro-Hexapla) . . . . .	91
9. "The Prodigal Son" (Luke 15. 11-32, Vetus Syra Sinaitica) . . .	94
10. Two humorous anecdotes of oriental origin . . . . .	97
11. From a Syriac grammar by Jacob of Edessa: Mutual incompati- bility of some consonants . . . . .	98
The three Syriac scripts illustrated . . . . .	101

Verb Paradigms

I. Regular triliteral verbs . . . . .	104
II. Third-Yodh verbs. . . . .	106
III. Second-Waw/Yodh verbs . . . . .	108
IV. Geminate verbs . . . . .	112
V. Regular verbs with object suffixes . . . . .	114
VI. Third-Yodh verbs with object suffixes . . . . .	118
GLOSSARY . . . . .	123