

CONTENTS

Preface .....	vii
Abbreviations .....	ix
Introduction .....	xi

PART ONE

Biographical Profile of an Idea

1.1 Nationality as Plurality .....	1
1.2 "The Declaration against Zionism," Emil Fränkel, and the Trip to Russia .....	4
1.3 Just War .....	11
1.4 Against Anti-Semitism and Zionism (Martin Buber) .....	15
1.5 Assimilation; Race; Conversion .....	29
1.6 Law and Orthodoxy .....	38

PART TWO

Logical Dispositions

Preface .....	51
2.1 "The Judgment of Plurality" .....	53
2.2 The Narrative of Origin .....	60
2.3 Remembering Reflection .....	67
2.4 "Allness" as Law-of-Thought .....	70
2.5 "Throwing to the outside" and the Biological Question ...	75
Summary .....	84

PART THREE

Nationality as 'People of a State'

Preface .....	87
3.1 People and Nation .....	88

3.2	The People and the "Fatherland" .....	93
3.3	The People and the History of the Reformation .....	99
3.4	Authoritarian State and People's State .....	105
3.5	Education for Loyalty .....	114

PART FOUR

The Pure Form of the National

4.1	"The Moral Preconditions" .....	121
4.2	The National Significance of Genius .....	125
4.3	"Comparison" as "Internalization" .....	128
4.4	"Internal Form of Language" and Completion .....	134
4.5	The Power of Purity .....	143
4.6	National Forms of Poetry: Epic and Lyric Poetry .....	154

PART FIVE

Nationality as Community

Preface .....	167
5.1 The Tragic Form of the Action .....	169
5.2 The Starting Point of Religious Love in Pity .....	172
5.3 Universal Relations of the National Consciousness .....	181
5.4 The Spiritual Existence of the Community .....	189
5.5 Atonement and Vicarious Suffering .....	197
5.6 The "Nearness of God" and Logic of the Origin .....	204
5.7 The Secret of Immortality .....	210
5.8 The "Merit of the Fathers" .....	218
5.9 The "Nations of the World" .....	226
5.10 Germanness and Judaism as National Correlation .....	231
Closing Overview .....	237
Literature .....	249
Index of Names .....	257