

Contents

List of figures	xiii
Acknowledgements	xv
Preface	xvii

PART I

The emergence of Holocaust research: background and context	1
--	----------

1 “Our Holocaust”: the public context of Holocaust research	3
Holocaust commemoration in the pre-state era and the foundation of the “first” Yad Vashem	3
The Holocaust in the life of the emerging Israeli state	9
Holocaust memory and the Knesset (Israeli parliament)	10
The Holocaust in the courtroom	13
Relations with Germany: reparations, weapons, recognition	14
Holocaust commemoration	15
The Holocaust in literature and the theater	19
Holocaust survivors in Israeli society	21
Conclusions	22

PART II

Forces influencing early Holocaust research	23
--	-----------

2 Holocaust survivors and Holocaust research	25
Historical commissions and documentation centers	26
The cultural background of the historical documentation work	32
3 Yad Vashem as a Zionist research institute: the vision of Ben-Zion Dinur	36
The exile, the Holocaust and the Encyclopedia of Communities	38
“The principal mission of ‘Yad Vashem’ is Holocaust Research”	40
The Holocaust in Dinur’s worldview	43

4 The Claims Conference and Yad Vashem	46
---	-----------

PART III

The formative years of Holocaust research	55
--	-----------

5 Searching for modes of research and teaching	57
---	-----------

The international conference on Holocaust and Martyrdom in Our Time 1947 57

The aspiration for the centrality of Yad Vashem and Eretz Israel 63

The complex murder of the Jews 68

The public response to the conference and proposals for Holocaust teaching at the Hebrew University 73

6 First efforts to institutionalize research and teaching	79
--	-----------

How should the Holocaust be researched? 79

Holocaust research as a response to existential questions 80

Criticism of the poor state of Holocaust writing 82

The call for research on Jewish aspects of the Holocaust 83

The agenda of Holocaust research in the eyes of the first generation: (a) The Jewish people 85

The agenda of Holocaust research in the eyes of the first generation: (b) Gentiles – perpetrators and bystanders 91

Attempts at research at the Ghetto Fighters' House 95

7 The research department at Yad Vashem	101
--	------------

Staffing and organization 102

Issues and debates 106

8 Infrastructure for research: agreements and disagreements	113
--	------------

The agreement with the Israeli Historical Society 113

The establishment of the Institute for the Study of the Destruction of European Jewry and its History in Recent Generations 115

*Initial discussions and the agreement with the Hebrew
University 116*

9 The beginning of university teaching	126
---	------------

Lobbying for university teaching 126

*The Chair of Holocaust Research at Bar-Ilan
University 128*

Holocaust instruction at the Hebrew University 132

Conclusion: the birth pangs of Israeli Holocaust research 132

10 The battle for Yad Vashem and Holocaust research: A four-scene drama	134
Scene one: research or commemoration?	134
Between scholarly debate and personal strife	140
Battling for public support	145
11 Dinur's rearguard battle	150
"An academic institution or a public institution"	152
The criticism of Dinur's research policies	153
The council's resolutions	156
12 Scene two: the Robinson report and the institute for Holocaust research	158
Negotiations between the university and Yad Vashem	161
Plans and their implementation	162
13 Scene three: the establishment of the "Commission for the Examination of the Activities of Yad Vashem"	165
"Commemoration is well cared for": the influence of Jacob Robinson	167
The research profile of Yad Vashem	169
Holocaust research at the universities	173
Holocaust research – definitions and conclusions	176
14 Scene four: the debate in the Knesset and its education committee	180
The Knesset debate	180
Debate at the education committee	181
Recommendations of the education committee: the question of research	183
PART IV
Consolidation, change and controversy	187
15 The 1960s: the maturation of Holocaust research	189
The Eichmann Trial and its influence on Holocaust research	190
Additional Holocaust commemorative institutions	194
Memory wars: the "Pillar of Heroism" and the "Badge of Heroism"	195
The state of Holocaust research outside Israel in the 1960s	197
The state of Israeli Holocaust research in the 1960s	202
The Institute of Contemporary Jewry at the Hebrew University	205

16 The conference on manifestations of Jewish resistance 1968	208
The general context: the debate on resistance in Europe	209
The Israeli context: resistance and amidah (stand)	212
The survivors' context: survivor conventions	214
Jewish responses as a research topic	218
17 Growth and progress: changes in the world of Israeli research and their implications	226
Research in the 1970s	227
Tools for the development of research	228
Venues for publication and research	230
18 Leadership, rescue and academic teaching	236
"Rescue Attempts During the Holocaust" 1974	236
"Patterns of Jewish Leadership in Nazi Europe" 1977	240
"The Nazi Concentration Camps" 1980	242
The Encyclopedia of Communities	244
Teaching and research at the universities	246
19 The agenda of Israeli Holocaust research	253
Research on Jewish armed resistance	253
Early academic research on the Yishuv and the Holocaust	258
Conclusions: guilty of "Palestinocentrism"	262
Public discourse and historical research	265
Postscript: Israeli research in social and ideological context	269
The unique nature of Israeli Holocaust research	269
Israeli society: the public interest in Holocaust research	271
The status of survivors in Israeli society	273
Outside influence on Israeli Holocaust research	274
Israeli Holocaust memory: is it a construct of the Zionist establishment?	275
 Appendix: Meir (Mark) Dworzecki's research plan presented to the Hebrew University in 1949	 279
Notes	282
Select bibliography and further reading	327
Index	339