

Contents

Introduction .....	7
Chapter I
Collective forgetting of the Holocaust in the People's Republic of Poland ....	13
1. Collective memory and collective forgetting.....	13
2. Genealogy of the need to forget.....	27
3. From autonomy to repression .....	48
4. A monument of martyrdom and the encyclopaedists case.....	57
5. March exorcisms on the Holocaust.....	67
6. Alibi for Oblivion .....	78
Chapter II
"Poor Poles" look at "Shoah":
Recovery of the memory of the Holocaust in the country of witnesses .....	87
1. Reconstructing the memory of Jews and the Holocaust in the last decade of the People's Republic of Poland .....	87
2. "Shoah" in Poland: identification of the areas of repression .....	102
3. What Błóński said in Miłosz's words. ....	116
Chapter III
The national debate on the crime in Jedwabne .....	133
1. The antecedents and the structure of the debate. ....	133
2. Historikerstreit in Polish. ....	150
3. Jedwabne in the moral discourse .....	166
4. The defence of the Polish innocence paradigm. ....	178
5. Disputes over reconciliation rituals .....	193
Chapter IV
"Fear" after Jedwabne. The debate that almost didn't happen .....	215
1. "Fear" in Poland and in the eyes of historians .....	215
2. Invalidating strategies .....	225
3. "Fear" without fear .....	243
Epilogue .....	249
Bibliography .....	269