

Contents

Introduction / So What's New? Daniel Boyarin and Jonathan Boyarin	vii
1 / Surfacing: Thoughts on Memory and the Ethnographer's Self Benjamin Orlove	1
2 / Jewish Icons: Envisioning the Self in Images of the Other Jack Kugelmass	30
3 / Situating History and Difference: The Performance of the Term Holocaust in Public Discourse Vivian M. Patra	54
4 / Identities on Display: Jewishness and the Representational Politics of the Museum Johannes von Moltke	79
5 / Whiteface Performances: "Race," Gender, and Jewish Bodies Ann Pellegrini	108
6 / Jazz-Jews, Jive, and Gender: The Ethnic Politics of Jazz Argot Maria Damon	150
7 / Secret Temples Daniel Itzkovitz	176

8 / The Aromatics of Jewish Difference; or, Benjamin's Allegory of Aura Jay Geller	203
9 / Beyond Deleuze and Guattari: Hebrew and Yiddish Modernism in the Age of Privileged Difference Chana Kronfeld	257
10 / Lawless Attachments, One-Night Stands: The Sexual Politics of the Hebrew-Yiddish Language War Naomi Seidman	279
11 / Masada or Yavneh? Gender and the Arts of Jewish Resistance Daniel Boyarin	306
12 / Exploding Identities: Notes on Ethnicity and Literary History Ammiel Alcalay	330
13 / The Holy Foreskin; or, Money Relics, and Judeo-Christianity Marc Shell	345
14 / On the (Under)Cutting Edge: Does Jewish Memory Need Sharpening? Gil Anidjar	360
Contributors	397
Index	401